Invasive positive pressure ventilators became popular after the Copenhagen polio epidemic. Currently ventilatory support can be provided in two ways: Invasive ventilation and Non-invasive ventilation. Non-invasive ventilation (NIV) is defined as ventilatory assistance to the lungs without an invasive artificial airway. RATIONALE Non-invasive ventilation has several advantages over invasive ventilation.

Non-invasive ventilation (NIV) is the use of airway support administered through a face (nasal) mask instead of an endotracheal tube. Inhaled gases are given with positive end-expiratory pressure often with pressure support or with assist control ventilation at a set tidal volume and rate.
